

America was founded on the beliefs that every person had equal right to sway public policy, apparatly the cuurent helm of the FCC does not see things this way. FEMA told all of us that BPL will cause interference to public safety and amateur frequencies. This is the US Government telling us this, not some crackpot on a street corner! So why is the FCC turning a blind eye to this? Simple, the FCC sees the "Golden Rule" as more of a guideline than any other, and FEMA, local public safety officials, and the general public don't have the "gold." Shame on the FCC, you should know better!
